

Postmortem for Tuner and Metronome Application

Review of project goals and outcomes
The five deliverables were met for the application. One of the goals was to meet with our team on a weekly basis which was also met.
Assessment of timeline and budget performance
Project was completed within the timeline.
Team performance and communication analysis
We communicated through an app called Element throughout the week for any questions or for suggestions from other team members. Team Members: Rainy (4.5), Phil (5), Mike (4.5), Myself (4) (I was late to a couple of meetings) I believed all team members were great and each put their own effort into the project. Everyone participated. But Phil I do think put a bit more work into the project over all of us since he was the project manager, had the Idea for this project, and he knew what he wanted to create.
Stakeholder feedback and satisfaction
Customers should be satisfied as everything was delivered how it should be and it was on time as well as cost-free.
Technical Issues
There weren't any tech issues.
Process Evaluation
The documentation quality was perfect in my opinion, we created all the documents and kept them on word for easy access between us.
